

Adrienne Wadsworth – Manifesto – Froebel College Social Secretary

Dear Roehampton Students, my name is Adrienne Wadsworth also known as AD, if you haven't seen me before you probably would have heard me! My main passion in life is socializing, meeting new people and inventing new ways of having fun. I am extremely enthusiastic, driven and possess an overwhelming dedication for Froebel.

My passion for organizing and promoting events began in sixth form where I was elected by the student body for the role of College President and head of our Events committee. I have also been an active member of Roehampton Student Union events committee for the past two years, working alongside our current social secretary Farmer Jon. Jon has done an amazing job as Froebel Social Sec and I aim to continue in his footsteps and get the most out of Roehampton's social scene.

I am very strong willed and hard working; however I am always open to suggestions and enjoy feeding off other student's ideas and interests. My main focus is to encourage more students living off campus and those who go home on the weekends to get involved in the new exciting events that I have in store. I will also aim to advertise social events off campus in our local area, so students can take advantage of living in London. If I were to be elected I would create new and exhilarating drink promotions encourage social nights for sports teams and societies and our Froebel college nights will be Insane!!!!

I am very friendly, honest and approachable and sometimes a little bit wasted. Most importantly I will listen to you and put your ideas into motion, with your support and my drive, the social life of every Froebel student will climax. My current flat has been mentioned in two issues of Froebel Nobel, being praised for some outstanding parties throughout the year. I have been fortunate enough to gain the position of senior flat rep in Aspen next year; this position highlights my organisational skills and also means I will constantly be on campus to cater for everyone's social needs.

If you vote for me I assure you that I will put everything into this position, showing you my creativity, playful nature and most importantly my ability to throw a cracking party! 500 words are not enough to inform you on the amazing plans I have in mind for Froebel.

Vote AD as your Social Sec and you won't be disappointed and that my fellow Froebel friends is a promise!
